TWO ARE KILLED IN AUTO COLLISION

Accident on Camp Humphreys Road Yesterday Afternoon

INQUEST TOMORROW

L. A. Cost and E. C. Stubblefield Knocked From Motorcycle by Another Motorcycle.

A smash up on the Camp Humphreys road at 3:30 p. m., yesterday afternoon between motorcycles and an automobile resulted in the death of two Washington men, L. A. Cost, 25 years old, 2028 G street, northwest and Edward C. Stubblefield, 2112 F street, northwest. Both of the men were riding a motorcycle at the time.

Immediately following the accident they were rushed to the hospital at Camp Humphreys. Cost died just as he reached the hospital and Stubblefield lived until a few minutes after 7 o'clock last night.

Bodies of both men were viewed today at the Humphreys Hospital by Justice Frank W. Troth, Fairfax county, and this afternoon were brought to Demaine's mortuary chapel where an inquest will be held by Justice Troth at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. A Fairfax jury will hear the case. Justice Troth stated this morning that he obtained the names of a number of witnesses to the accident, and he came to Alexandria and had them summoned to appear at the inquest.

Robert J. Snead, 6 Cedar street, Rosemont, stated today that both men were riding a motorcycle and the machine collided with another motorcycle, and both men were thrown out into the road. The locking of the handle bars it is stated caused the accident.

Almost on top of them came an automobile which struck them. The automobile it is reported was driven by a sergeant from Fort Myer and he stopped and experienced difficulty in getting his machine disentangled from the motorcycle.

According to Mr. Snead the sergeant placed the two injured men in his automobile and made a quick run to the hospital at Humphreys.

A. H. Dion, this city, and other Alexandrians who it is reported witnessed the accident have been summoned to testify before the jury.

Cost lived at Hagerstown, Md., and his family was informed of the fatal accident.

J. W. Stubblefield, father of one of the victims, lives at Pampa, Va. He was notified as was also Lester Stubblefield, brother of the man, who is a student at the Maryland Agricultural College, College Park, Md.

The Alexandria police received information of the affair and communicated what facts were given to the Washington authorities.

LECTURE TONIGHT

Shoreland Fannon Will Address Business Men at Opera House

"The Troubles of a Merchant and How to Stop Them" will be the subject of an illustrated lecture which will be delivered in the opera house, at 8.15 o'clock tonight, by Shoreland Fannon, well known business expert and organizer. The affair will be under the auspices of the Retail Merchats' Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Fannon comes here through the courtesy of the National Cash Regester Company of Dayton, O.

He will show how cooperation and organization will make for a better community or city. How cooperation and understanding will remove trouble between employer and employee. He will show practical improvements in service and store organization that will please the general public and draw trade. How friendly cooperation and organization among business men instead of petty jealousies and nardowness will aid in bringing prosperity to all. He will show how proper advertising. Will change losses to profits. How systematic continuous newspaper advertising pays the largest dividends of all. How systematic enables a merchant to know at all times about the conditions of his business instead of guessing is now more than ever before absolutely essential to success.

With the aid of three thousand feet of moving picture film and about two thundred stereopticon views, Mr. Fannon will give a most interesting and timely discussion.

It isn't theory. It isn't over the heads of people. It is solid horse sense applied to merchandising. Practical every day concrete experience given in this way with lecture and pictures make a double impression—through the eye and the ear that is sure to be of lasting benefit to every business man or sales person that attends this lecture.

Every merchant or wife of a merchant, every salesman or clerk, every business man and all those interested in seeing this city become a better business center should not fail to hear Mr. Fannon.

A glance at this outline of the lecture is sufficient to show its great value:

Town organization and cooperation, retail failures and their causes, store organization, newspaper advertising, window displays, the business of clerks, credits and accounts, salesmanship, system.

The picture that the Y. M. C. A., made of the Sunday School parade with other reels will be shown this week under the auspices of the Alexandria Sunday School Association. Each Sunday School in the city has been assigned a night on which they will see the program. The announcement concerning the time and place has already been made. To make it possible for all that took part in the parade to see the pictures this week it will be necessary for the different Sunday Schools to follow closely the instructions that have been given them. ROUTED BY WOMEN

New York, Dec. 8—The importance attached in Paris to the question of the right of the French women to vote and to be eligible to the Chamber of Deputies was exemplified at a meeting for the election of a councilor from the Ninth district of Paris, when a woman raised the question whether the candidate favored woman's right to vote, says a copyrighted dispatch to the New York World.

Replying in the negative, the candidate was the center of an unruly manifestation and was forced to leave the platform, whereupon his interpellator addressed the audience.

Cheered continuously, she appealed to women to press their desire to have a voice in the nation's destiny Meanwhile the first candidate had slipped out of the room.

NARROW ESCAPE OF TWO AVIATORS

Fall Into Potomac Off Wellington Villa Saturday

RESCUE IS TIMELY

Fred Stogel, Chief Machinist, Had Both Legs Broken—Lieut. J. H. Davidson Escaped Injury.

Two aviators enroute from Philadelphia to Washington had a narrow escape from death at 5.40 o'clock Saturday afternoon when their hydroplane fell into the Potomac opposite Wellington Villa, three miles below Alexandria.

The machine was in command of Lieut. John H. Davidson, and Chief Machinist Mate Fred F. Stogel, who accompanied Pilot Davidson, had both legs broken.

Cries of distress given by the men were heard by William E. Ketland who at once set out in a small boat to rescue the men. Soon afterward Homer A. Kluckan and George Abbott, William Anderson and Lawrence Baer also set out in boats. When they arrived Ketland had both men in his canoe.

Both of the aviators when rescued were up to their waist in water and clinging to the wings of the machine.

They were at once taken to the residence of Mrs. E. L. Finks, Wellington Villa. Soon afterward Dr. S. B. Moore of this city was summoned and gave first aid treatment to the men.

About 8 o'clock that night they were placed in an ambulance from Camp Humphreys and taken to the Naval Hospital Washington. Lieut. Davidson, however, was able to leave the hospital and went to his Washington home 1825 F street.

The Baltimore steamer Three Rivers stopped to give aid and threw on her searchlights and offered assistance.

The accident was due to engine trouble and also the fact that there was a heavy rain at the same time which may have confused the aviators.

When Lieut. Davidson was leaving the Washington hospital Saturday night he stated that they could not see much for the snow and that the engine was acting bad. He added "It all happened so quickly we hardly knew what was up until we found ourselves in the icy waters. It seemed like we floundered around in the river an hour before help came."

The hydroplane was on her maiden trip and was only slightly damaged. She was taken to Bolling Field yesterday afternoon. The machine is valued at $12,000.

Edward Gibson of Warwick, Fairfax Co., was the first to telephone news of the accident. He telephoned Chief Goods and the latter notified the Washington authorities and a government tug was dispatched to the scene. Police Sergt. Wilkinson later endeavored to get a government boat here to go to the scene but learned it was out of commission.

ALEXANDRIA-BUILT SHIPS

The Philadelphia papers now contain the advertisement of the United Transport Company, which is to operate a line of steamships between the city of brotherly love and ports on the Mediterranean. The sailings announced are as follows: "Steamship Vanada, December 28, 1919, and the E. A. Morse, January 15, 1920." These new steel ships will stop at Barcelona and Marseilles on their way to Piraeus and Salonica.

These vessels will be recognized as the production of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation at this port, under the name of which are the words "of Alexandria, Va."

The Gazette has at times referred to a time in the past when a number of ocean-going vessels (all constructed of wood), carried the American flag and the name from which they hailed to different ports of the old world. Most of those vessels, however, had not been constructed at Alexandria. They had been purchased by our merchants and used in connection with the foreign trade.

But the time has come when large, modern steel steamships built at Alexandria, are ploughing the great deep and making voyages to places where our ships of bygone years visited. Alexandria-built ships are to lie at the Piraeus, within the shadow of the Acropolis at Athens, one of the most interesting places in the world to historians. Paul while speaking to the Areopagites on Mars Hill overlooked the Piraeus, which is the port of Athens, as is Yokahama that of Tokyo.

Salonica, which figures in ancient and modern history, was the Thessalonica of the days of the great apostle. Paul made a two-weeks' visit to the place during his absence in the flesh, and wrote two epistles to the disciples at that place.

Every Alexandrian will rejoice to know that the name of our city will be upon ships which will soon be moored at a port which has figured since the days of classic Greece.

The fifth vessel launched at the plant of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation is rapidly approaching completion, and the sixth, now on the ways, will next month be consigned to its element.

THE GATEWAY OF THE SOUTH

There was a time in the memory of many still living when but one railway train a day entered Alexandria. The old Orange and Alexandria Railroad Company operated one round trip train a day. For some time it left this city about seven o'clock in the morning for Orange, then the southwestern terminus. This train returned about two o'clock in the afternoon. Later the road was extended to Gordonsville and the same schedule was maintained. The train left the southwest corner of Duke and Henry streets, and returned to that point then the northern terminus of the road destined to become a division of one of the greatest railway systems in the world.

While standing at Union Station yesterday afternoon we noticed that half a dozen or more passenger trains, north and south bound, entered the station within a period of about forty minutes. The bulletin board gave the time of the arrival and departure of numbers of others. An attache of the station informed us that about eighty passenger trains passing north and south enter the station every twenty-four hours.

In the early days of railroading far-seeing persons prophesied that the railroad between Alexandria and Washington would be the neck of travel between the two sections of the country.

We have on another occasion told an anecdote of the late David W. Lewis, for many years superintendent of the Alexandria Water Works located in what is now known as Duke street extended. It was in the days of the old Drovers' Rest, operated by the late Samuel Catts. Mr. Lewis on one occasion told Mr. Catts that the time was coming when the site of his hotel would be used for a railroad depot, at which time Alexandria would be the gateway between the north and the south. This forecast was made about sixty years ago. It is being fulfilled in our day, as the present Union Station is about one hundred yards north of the old Drovers' Rest.

YESTERDAY'S ACCIDENT

The almost instant killing of two men on the Camp Humphreys road near Alexandria yesterday afternoon affords another warning to those passing to and fro between this city and the government camp on autocycles or automobiles. According to all that can be learned, the accident was the result of recklessness, the machine which struck the motorcycle having been on its way north at a terrific speed.

The parties responsible for the double fatality kept on and their identity could not be established.

Many Alexandrians who own automobiles take spins to Camp Humphreys occasionally, especially on Sundays when the weather is auspicious, as it was yesterday. Narrow escapes from collisions are often reported by those who drive carefully but who, notwithstanding, often experience close calls caused by the recklessness of others.

A resident of this city, who has operated an automobile almost from their introduction, recently said that the time had come when his car on the more improved roads, as certain individuals, regardless of the rights of others, run their machines at the highest speed obtainable and monopolized the middle of the road, forcing him to keep his car on the bare margin of the road in order to avoid collisions. For some time in passing from this city to his home on the edge of the city he has been forced in the interests of safety to patronize less frequented and unimproved highways.

RESULT OF THE STRIKE

Many Trains Are Being Discontinued In Virginia and Elsewhere

Washington, Dec. 8.—Warning to the public that railway travel will be "difficult and unsatisfactory" until the coal strike emergency has passed, and should be avoided wherever possible, was issued Saturday night by Director-General Hines, of the railway administration. Many trains are to be taken off to conserve coal, parlor car service is to be sharply curtailed and persons forced to undertake journeys should consult railroad agents as to available trains before arranging their plans, the statement said.

"The shortage of coal has reached a point where it is vitally necessary to reduce passenger train service and to call upon the public to assume the inconvenience and discomfort which this action will enevitably entail," Mr. Hines said.

Richmond, Dec. 8.—Making the first announcement of the ordered curtailment of passenger train service beginning Tuesday next, the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company has arranged for a discontinuance of three trains between Richmond and Petersburg. This is a reduction of one-third of the passenger service between this city operated by the company from nine to six trains daily.

None of the other lines in the city had received instruction from their Federal managers as to what trains would be discontinued. Each road several days ago canvassed the situation as affecting their service, and made reports, on which will be based orders for their curtailment. It is expected that every line will make their announcement by Monday in order that the public may have the information before the order becomes effective.

NO COMPULSORY TRAINING

Provisions for compulsory military training will not be included in the reorganization of the peace time army, the House Military Committee announced yesterday.

The bill tentatively agreed upon will provide for a standing armed force of 300,000 officers and enlisted men.

Representative Anthony, Republican, Kansas, ranking majority member of the committee in discussing the bill said, "It would be framed without the compulsory training provisions."

CITY OF CONSTANTINOPLE

Moslem Capital Said to be Worst Governed City in the World

Constantinople, Dec. 8.—Constantinople is credited here with being the worst governed city in the world, as well as that in which the cost of living is highest. It presents a spectacle of chaos. Everybody is robbing everybody else. Blackhanders among the shipping agents and the longshoremen are responsible for the fact that it costs more to get freight from a ship to shore than to transport it from New York to Constantinople. All available dock space has been taken up by the Entente Powers and Americans and citizens of other countries, who are shut out, are paying $35 a ton to get goods from a ship through the customs.

Every species of Levantine thievery has been turned loose. A modest hotel room costs from $5 to $8 a day, with food in proportion, although the markets are full of produce.

Food prices have increased 200 per cent over those prevailing before the war, while house rent has increased 15 fold. The city nightly is full of fighting soldiers and sailors of all nationalities, shooting off firearms. The gambling houses are in full swing for all classes with the merchants, when losers, making up their losses by raising prices, although the warehouses are overstocked.

The streets swarm with pickpockets, with the Turkish police claiming to be helpless because of the inter-Allied control. The Turkish government claims it is helpless to conduct affairs for the same reason—that it has too many bosses.

The Turkish officials say they are afraid of the ultimate attitude of Great Britain, although recent speeches in the British House of Commons have reawakened their hopes that Turkey will not be partitioned. Meanwhile, capitalists of all nations are going ahead buying up private concessions for exploitation when peace is signed. However, the Turkish government has forbidden the sale of new concessions since July.

RIOTING IN ITALY

Eight Dead After Terrorism by Strikers at Mantua

Rome, Dec. 8.—Eight persons are dead and 42 others are known to have been wounded as a result of the wild rioting on Wednesday and Thursday at Mantua, where mobs terrorized the city.

The rioters attacked the small garrison, cut telegraph and telephone communications, stopped railway traffic, raided arms shops, burned prisons, freeing all sorts of criminals, and held the police and soldiers at bay until fresh troops and carbineers arrived with machine guns and occupied the city militarily. The troops finally established order Thursday night.

The crowds stormed the military barracks and fired on the garrison. The soldiers discouraged the attacking by firing into the air. At the suggestion of some of the extremist leaders the mob moved on to the railway station and seized the restaurant, where they feasted and drank wine. Those of the rioters unable to enter the restaurant were incensed when the men inside poured wine upon the floor of the restaurant until it flowed into the street.

The rails were torn up to prevent trains entering or leaving the station and the building itself was wrecked. At the suggestion, "let us burn the jails and free the prisoners," the mob moved to the prisons, overcame the guards and ordered the astonished prisoners out, telling them a revolution had come and they were free.

DIVORCE RUSH IN NORFOLK

Effort Seen to Evade Strict Remarriage Law

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 8.—Norfolk courts are being stampeded by litigants seeking divorces, The cause of the unusual rush is a law passed by the last session of the Virginia Legislature, existence of which only recently has been discussed. This law requires that all parties securing divorces after January 12, 1920, must wait six months from the date of the final decree before they can remarry.

A much less stringent and far more popular provision of the new law is that permitting testimony in all cases without regard to the ground on which the suit was brought. Under the old law the complainant could noly testify in cases where cruelty or desertion was alleged.

ZION FANATIC HIT HARD

Knocks Cigarette From Man's Mouth and is Laid Out.

Chicago, Dec. 8.—Alvin Ruesch started to work yesterday morning in Zion City with a cigarette between his lips. It is against spiritual and city law to smoke in Zion city. Fay E. Clark, one of the faithful, saw the fag burning through the gloom. He stepper up to Alvin.

"Peace to thee," he whispered and batted the fag into the street. "Sinner dost thou not know—"

"Peace to thee," shouted Alvin and landed two wicked punches on the other's jaw. A passing motorist found him unconscious. At a hospital he was found to have a compound fracture of the jaw and a cracked head. Alvin fled Zion.

EXECUTION OF SAILORS

Witness Says Von Hindenburg Declared Drastic Act Saved Berlin From Misfortune

Berlin, Dec. 8.—First Lieutenant Marloh, who is being tried on a charge of having ordered executed 29 sailors on March 11 last, succumbed to pressure and "violated his love of truth and order to save the Fatherland," according to witnesses testifying in the case Saturday.

Some of the witnesses implied that Marloh acted also to shield General Reinhardt, former Prussian War Minister.

General Reinhardt was especially blamed by one witness, although it was admitted that Berlin was in such a critical situation at the time that the general probably was justified in issuing orders for the execution of the sailors.

One witness asked the judge to permit him to testify in secret, but this was refused, and he then declared that Lieutenant Marloh had told him that Field Marshall von Hindenburg had said the shooting of the sailors had "saved Berlin from a great misfortune."

HORRIBLE DEATH FOR TWO

Engineer Hurled Into Glass Works Fire Pit and Roasted

Philadelphia, Dec. 8.—When oil in a feed pipe which they were repairing Saturday afternoon in the boiler room of the Gill Glass Company, Amber and Venango streets, caught fire, William McDowell one engineer was roasted alive. Christopher Dornan received burns that caused his death Saturday night in the northeastern Hospital. The victims bodies were dragged from the boiler room by firemen and fellow employees at the risk of their lives.

McDowell and Dornan, who were on top of the big oil furnace into which the feed pipe leads, were trapped without a chance of escape. After the pulling of a plug from the pipe some oil is believed to have run down the wall to a lighted gas jet. There was a blinding flash followed by an explosion. The impact of the blast hurled Fornan into the fire pit wedging him in space against the fire wall. The feed pipe, which burst almost instantly, covered the clothes of McDowell with oil and he was burned to a crisp.

AUSTRIA'S PLIGHT

Dr. Renner to Plead Her Cause Before Supreme Council

Vienna, Dec. 8.—Dr. Karl Renner, the chancellor, has been notified by the Supreme Council that it is willing to receive him personally at Paris to plead his country's dangerous plight. Dr. Renner will beg for immediate help, proposing as an alternative the retirement of the present government and the election by the Allies of a neutral dictator and administrative staff to govern the country.

Paris, Dec. 8.—The Journal des Debats says that an alarming rumor was in circulation last week on the Vienna Stock Exchange to the effect that the government would refuse to continue to assume responsibility for affairs of state and would hand over the governmental power to the Entente.

TRAIN STRIKES AUTO

Minister at Wheel Killed—Many Passengers Have Close Call

Scores of Washingtonians, including a number of members of Congress, narrowly escaped death late last night when train No. 129, a Pennsylvania express from New York to Washington, was derailed at Bengies Station, near Gunpowder River.

The train jumped the track after it had crashed into an automobile driven by the Rev. William H. Dell, retired Methodist Episcopal clergyman, and ground him to death.

E. D. Adkins, the engineer of the derailed express train, was the only local man injured. He lives in St. Elmo, Va. Adkins' right leg was dislocated.

The engine of the express was thrown from the tracks after its wheels had become clogged with the motor of the Rev, Dell's automobile, carrying four cars of the train with it.

The passengers on the train were badly shaken up but none of them was seriously injured.

The Rev. William H. Dell, who was instantly killed when the express train hit his automobile, was returning from Essex, Md., where he had just preached a sermon. He was the only occupant of the automobile.

PLAN TO END STRIKE

Officials Refuse to Reveal Details of President's Proposal

Interest in the coal situation is centered today on the terms of the proposal which the President has made for the settlement of the strike.

Government officials who were in a position to know something about the President's plan to bring about peace in the coal industry yesterday observed the closest secrecy regarding it.

At the Department of Justice it was said that no statement would be made in addition to the brief one given out announcing that the President's proposal would be submitted to the meeting of the miners' representatives in Indianapolis tomorrow afternoon.

It was said that the President's plan would not be made public until after it had been presented to the miners. The reason for this it is understood, is that the Government desires that the chances of its success should not be endangered by letting it become known before Acting President Lewis and Secretary Green had a chance to urge its acceptance by the miners.

FLEETS IN CLOSE TOUCH

Effectiveness of the New Naval Organization

"The large increase in the number of destroyers, we will soon have 300, and the completion and commissioning of new dreadnoughts and other craft has made possible what the protection of our coats has long demanded—the maintenance of a powerful division of the American fleet in both the Atlantic and Pacific, says Secretary of the Navy Daniels in his annual report. "It has been a source of regret to all who believe equal protection should be given to all portions of our coast that our navy has heretofore lacked enough ships to warrant two great divisions, one in the Atlantic and one in the Pacific. It is a matter of national congratulation that our naval strength at last permits this, along with the utilization of the Panama Canal for the defensive purpose for which it was constructed. For years the advocates of an isthmain canal pointed out that one of its chief values and uses would be to double the effectiveness of our fleet."

HOUSE DYNAMITED

Nesquehoning People Buried in Ruins Are Saved From Fire

Mauch Chunk, Pa., Dec. 8.—The house of Joseph Faggio, of New Columbus, Nesquehoning, was dynamited last week and destroyed in the subsequent fire.

Mr. Faggio, his wife and eight children caught in the ruins escaped badly cut and bruised. One of the children was extricated with difficulty from beneath a mass of bricks. The entire town was shaken by the explosion.

Four sticks of dynamite were found afterward near the scene.

In addition to the destruction of the house, valued at $5000, $1200 in cash was burned. Three hundred dollars was recovered.

Mr. Faggio declares he never has received any threatening or black hand letters. He is prosperous, and jealousy is considered a possible motive for the crime. The authorities are conducting an investigation.

BLUE LAWS IGNORED

Many Arrests Are Made in Baltimore, But Police Gather Much Evidence

Yesterday, the first Sunday since the "blue Sunday" Baltimore experienced a week ago, was "blue" in a figurative sense only. Most of the drug stores and shops that were closed last Sunday were open yesterday. The police made no arrests, but kept records of the names of shopkeepers and of persons who made purchases. The names of the shopkeepers will be sent to the grand jury for action and the purchasers will be summoned to appear as witnesses.

Long, detailed lists of names were prepared at the various police stations last night. They included druggists who had been apprehended in the act of selling tootache wax and headache powders; small grocers caught selling bread and butter; men who were shining shoes; men who were selling ice and ice cream, and men who were working.

In a bakery the names of four men were taken because they were working. Nine persons, including three women, were jotted down for working in a bathhouse.

SAY LAWYER TALKED RED

U. S. Attorney Accused of Urging Use of "the Noose" in New York Case

New York, Dec. 8.—Allegations that Samuel Markewich, an assistant district attorney, had suggested the use of "the noose," in criticizing in a public address, September 28, the action of the Federal District Court in a street railway case were made before the Appelate division of the Supreme Court Friday by the Grievance Committee of the Bar Association.

Markewich, in objecting to an order of the court authorizing Job Hedges, receiver for the New York Railways Company, to discontinue the use of storage battery cars is reported to have said::

"What ought to be done is what was done in the days of Charles the First. The noose. The noose."

The incident was called to the attention of the Bar Association by Judge Mayer who issued the order. Markewich denies the charges.

VIRGINIA BRIDE ACCUSED

Winchester, Va., Dec. 8.—Mrs. Sadie Nichols Haines, a bride of several weeks, is in jail charged with registering at a local hotel Saturday night as the wife of a man who, it developed, was not her husband. She is from Madison county, Va., and was reared in the "moonshine" district. Two men who were with her are sought by the police.

MINERS GROW RESTIVE

Cumberland, Md., Dec. 8.—Frank J. Drum, acting president, and William J. Trickett, secretary and treasurer of District No. 16, United Mine Workers of America, left last night for Indianapolis, having been summoned to attend the conference of district officials Tuesday afternoon. Secretary Trickett said before leaving that the conference would hear a proposition from President Wilson, which, though he did not know its nature, he assumed to be an effort to end the strike. Trickett said there was no sign of a break among the miners of the district. It is known, however, that many of the miners about Frostburg are chafing under inactivity and are blue over the prospects of a cheerless Christmas. They were openly talking in barber shops and other public places Saturday night about resuming early this week, and a break would not be surprising. Nearly 500 miners, who are resive under laboring jobs they have taken in Cumberland, which involve harder work and less pay, also openly express dissatisfaction.

The state convention, it is expected, will meet late in February or early in March.

Sports Doom Foot Binding in China

Freedom of Action Imperative and Bound Feet Disappearing.

American Playground One of Our Most Valued Exports to the Orient, Says this Observer

Basket ball, tennis and jumping the rope are curing China of the age-old cruel custom of binding the feet of her daughters. These American sports are proving just as efficacious in doing away with that evil as is the law of the Chinese republic against the practice of foot binding. In many instances it is even more efficacious for there can be no basket ball, tennis or rope jumping for the girl with bound feet and since the "new woman" of China, even in her girlhood insists upon participating in American sports the bound foot must go.

All kinds of American sports are popular in young China and in other Oriental countries, according to John W. Wood, Foreign Secretary to the Board of Missionz of the Episcopal Church, who recently returned from a nine-months' tour of the Far East in connection with the Episcopal Nation-Wide Campaign. In fact, Mr Wood ranks the American playground as one of our most important "exports" to the Orient. He hopes it will be "exported" in still larger quantities through the Nation-Wide Campaign as that campaign seeks to raise more than $42,000,000 to strengthen all phases of Episcopal activities at home and abroad.

"Quietly but systematically for the past twenty years," he said "we have been exporting to the Orient that distinctly American institution, the playground; and now the Chinese Empire is dotted with these open air places. One can't easily estimate the extent of the benefits future generations in the Orient will derive from this infusion of the spirit of free, open air America into the youth of China.

"In the one detail, for instance, of binding the feet of Chinese girls, our playgrounds are working a revolution. There can be no basket ball or tennis or rope jumping for a girl with bound feet, and since the Chinese girl insists upon taking part in sports, the binding up of the feet is bound to go.

Methodists Save Belgian and Serbian Orphans

Southern Church Buys Homes in Brussels and Belgrade and Supports Serbian Refugees in England.

Nashville, Tenn. — The Centenary Commission of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will specialize in caring for the children of Belgium, Serbia and other stricken countries of Europe, according to an announcement made by Dr. W. B. Beauchamp, the director-general. Dr. Beauchamp and a Church Commission have just returned from Europe.

For this purpose a large home, formerly a famous boys' school, has been purchased at Uccle, a suburb of Brussels. Several hundred children can be accommodated in this building, and the Methodists will assume entire responsibility for them and their future.

Another home has been bought at Belgrade, Servia, and here the underfed orphans of the Southern Slavs will be given medical attention and cared for. A staff of women physicians, secured from Scotland, will be in charge of this home.

Still another orphanage has been taken over at Faversham, England. This home already contains more than a hundred Serbian children, orphaned refugees who were taken from their homes during the Austrian invasion.

Plight of Children Deplorable.

"One can scarcely imagine the plight of the Belgian and Serbian children," declared Dr. Beauchamp. "The mines of Northern France have been flooded or filled with concrete by the Germans, and thousands of children will literally freeze to death this winter.

"I have seen them living in the old trenches and dug-outs left by the enemy, with little to eat save what is gathered from the passers-by."

Relief stations will be established as quickly as workers can be obtained and supplies sent. These will be at Brussels, Ypres, St. Quentin, Montdidier, Belgrade and other centers.

The Centenary Commission is seeking for two young physicians, eight nurses, a dozen women social workers, and a number of superintendents and directors to reinforce the relief staff. These will be sent abroad at once.

The Church has a fund of $5,000,000 for this purpose. It is a part of the $53,000,000 fund which was raised in the recent Centenary Drive.

Christians Invade The Holy Land

Southern Methodists Send First Workers To Palestine for Bible and Literature Distribution.

(Special Correspondence)

Nashville, Tenn.—The Methodist Episcopal Church, South, has the distinction of being the first Christian denomination to send workers to Palestine since the free regime inaugurated under the occupancy of General Allenby.

The Centenary European Commission of the Church, headed by Bishop James Atkins and Dr. W. B. Beauchamp, have already dispatched five colporteurs to the Holy Land. These will be followed by five more in the next few weeks.

These workers will establish no stations, but will follow the early Methodist custom of itinerating over the country distributing Bibles, tracts and Christian literature.

This literature will be printed in the native dialects, and will be secured through an arrangement with the Nile Press in Egypt.

Under the rule of the Turk such a movement would have been prohibited, but under Allenby there is perfect freedom of religions. The action of the Southern Methodists is the beginning of a vast scheme of missionary activity which will be carried on in the Holy Land.

DECLARES HE WILL ACT

Governor of Tennessee Says Time Has Come for Him to Intervene to Insure Coal Production

Knoxville, Tenn., Dec. 8.—In an address before a large assembly of citizens here Saturday, Governor A. H. Roberts served notice on both coal operators and coal miners that the coal strike in Tennessee must be terminated.

He appealed to operators and miners upon the ground of patriotic duty to State and nation, and declared that "should they fail to heed this appeal, then the notice is served upon them that I shall forth with take such steps and employ such means as may seem best calculated to produce the desired results.'

The Governor announced that, since the situation had "become acute and both sides in their stubbornness and selfishness have manifested a disposition to stand out against all entreaties," it became his duty to intervene and assert the rights of the public. "To this end," he declared, "I shall employ all the resources of the State of Tennessee in both men and money."

MAUDE MOORE FOUND GUILTY

Convicted of Killing Leroy D. Harth While on Motor Trip

Knoxville, Tenn., Dec. 8.—Maude Moore late Saturday was convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to 21 years in the penitentiary at Nashville by a jury, which had heard her trial on the charge of killing Leroy D. Harth, prominent business man. A motion for a new trial was entered and probably comes up next Saturday. Her bondsmen surrendered her, and she was again incarcerated in jail.

It was the theory of the prosecution that Miss Moore and Martin Hunter planned to lure Harth away from the city and rob him of a large diamond ring which he wore and a large sum of money which he was reputed to carry. The prosecution contended Maude Moore telephoned Harth and arranged to meet him at 9:30 o'clock, and took her revolver in her handbag, and that when they were what she considered a safe distance from the city, she attempted to rob Harth, and a fight ensued in the automobile.

Martin Hunter, who is being held in jail here, having been unable to make bond, probably will be brought to trial at an early date on a charge of being an accessory before and after the fact.

And just as positively does poor, thin blood directly influence the entire system. Pepto-Mangan helps restore vigor—our health, because it contains the very elements so much needed by the blood enable it to perform its functions and supply the body with nourishment, energy, and strength.

For your convenience, Pepto-Mangan is prepared in tablet as well as liquid form. Both possess exactly the same medicinal value.

There is but one genuine Pepto-Mangan, and that is "Gude's." If the name "Gude's" is not on the package it is not Pepto-Mangan.

"Knew we'd get together"

HERE'S where the particular smoker meets the particular smoke—Chesterfield.

Particular is right! Not only do we use the four choicest varieties of Turkish tobacco—Xanthi, Cavalla, Smyrna and Samsoun—but to these we add the rich, sun-ripened leaves of specially choice Domestic tobacco.

Fine as these tobaccos are, it's the exclusive process by which they are blended that gives to Chesterfields that satisfying body, that mellow richness which makes a smoke mean something.

Chesterfields certainly do satisfy as no other cigarette has satisfied you before—and to top it off, they are packed in a glassine paper package that preserves for you all of that delicious flavor.

GIVE ME SOME WAR SAVING STAMPS

MANY PERSONS HELD BY HYPNOTIC SPELL

Erroneously Imagine That Value of Money Lies Within Itself and Not in Those Things It Will Buy.

Thousands of Americans are under the hypnotic spell of money. With distorted viewpoint they have come to regard money as a great treasure in itself whereas money has its real significance only in what it buys for us. A man's reward for his work does not depend merely on what he earns. For the true reward of labor is the service the worker is able to obtain with the money he earns.

It is evident that a man may earn twice as much as he once did in money and yet be no better off if the goods he needs cost twice or three times what they formerly cost. But it is apparent to all that apart from increase or decrease in wages as expressed in money, there is a wide difference in the real value earned by persons receiving the same in actual cash.

What a person gets out of the world in return for what he gives it, depends finally on the choice made in disposing of his income. One man by wise buying, careful and consistent saving and safe and profitable investment in such securities as War Savings Stamps, Treasury Savings Certificates and Liberty Bonds, may transform the reward of his labor into all the necessities and comforts of life that he requires and even its luxuries. Another, gaining exactly the same sum in actual cash, may, through waste, extravagance and failure to save, find himself unable to secure even the necessities.

Whether or not a worker earns a sum which fulfills his estimate of what should be his just reward for labor, the responsibility for the way he spends what he gets remains with him and with him alone and cannot be transferred to any other person. Prices of necessities and wages may ebb and flow like the tide but the fundamental fact remains unchanged that apart from the nature and volume of his earnings every man can, within limits, determine the richness of the reward of his labor. He can accomplish this by the amount of restraint and intelligence he exercises in spending what he has to spend and in saving and investing what he has to save.

SCALPER OF WAR SAVING STAMPS ARRESTED.

From every Federal Reserve District in the United States information is being received by the Treasury Department in Washington that a determined war is being waged against persons, who, by preying upon the unwary, are trafficking in War Saving and Treasury Certificates.

The latest information regarding the activity of the "Scalpers" comes from St. Louis, where two arrests have been made by Deputy United States Marshals. Both prisoners were released on $5,000 bonds and are now waiting for a hearing before the Federal commissioner.

One of the men is said to have altered registered numbers on War Savings Certificates, it being alleged by St. Louis postal authorities that in the man's office were found $875 in War Saving Certificates from which the registration numbers had been removed. It is charged that the other accused man had in his possession $866.90 worth of altered government securities.

One of the suspects is employed by a St. Louis brokerage concern; the other is the proprietor of a hotel.

WHY CERTIFICATES ARE SO ATTRACTIVE

Unusual Features Make New Government Securities Splendid Medium in Which to Invest Savings.

Details of the features which make the new Treasury Savings Certificates of $100 and $1,000 maturity value attractive investments have been compiled in pamphlet form by the Savings Division of the Treasury Department. In addition to the regulations governing the sale of these "baby" securities, the pamphlet contains the rulings of the Secretary of the Treasury on various questions concerning the new issue.

One of the interesting features of these certificates that make them unique investments is that they may be issued and registered in the name of an infant. Every certificate is issued and registered as a means of absolute protection to the purchaser. Certificates may also be issued and registered jointly to two persons and may be made payable to either of the two purchasers or to both.

Rulings governing payment of certificates to deceased owners are also contained in the pamphlet, with specitl mention made for each legal requirement according to laws of various states regarding wills, etc. At discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury, in event of no other legal obstacles, payment will be made in the following order of classes:

First, husband, wife, next of kin or other person who pays the reasonable funeral expenses of the last illness or other preferred claims against the decendents estate; second, creditor for funeral expenses, expense of last illness or other preferred claims; third husband or wife, child or children, father or mother, any other of the next of kin of the deceased.

UNCLE SAM SAYS HERE'S LIBERTY BOND'S BROTHER.

Treasury Savings Certificates are a new issue of United States government securities. They are of $100 and $1,000 denominations. They run for five years and bear 4 per cent interest, compounded every three months.

They are little brothers of the Liberty Bond and big brothers of the War Savings Stamp.

A $100 Savings Certificate costs $84.40 this month. It will be worth $100 January 1, 1924. It is cashable any time with accrued interest at any postoffice on ten days' notice. It is a government obligation.

A $1,000 savings certificate costs $844 this month. It will be redeemed by Uncle Sam January 1, 1924, for $1,000. It is cashable with accrued interest at any time at any postoffice on ten days' notice.

Treasury savings certificates are registered in your name, thus insuring against loss.

BRITISH NOW SAVING LARGE SUMS OF MONEY.

In spite of the exigencies of war, the volume of saving deposits in England has grown tremendously in the last five years according to the comptroller of the British Post Office Savings Bank. Only twice, the comptroller states, was the flow of savings deposits interrupted: once by the war loan of 1915 and once by the 5 per cent loan of 1917.

Total deposits increased despite the fact that depositors transferred over $1,000,000,000 from their postal savings into the various issues of the government. The recent figures show conclusively, the comptroller asserts, the power of saving of the British public for the amount diverted to the government war issues has not been wasted or dissipated but must still be included in the savings of the nation.

TARRED AND TOLD TO LEAVE

Winchester, Va., Dec. 8.—The authorities of Augusta county have been urged by a delegation of citizens to take cognizance of an alleged assault upon J. W. Fitzgerald, of that county, who is said to have been set upon one night recently, stripped of his clothing and given a coating of tar by a crowd of men, none of whom, it is said, were masked.

Fitzgerald recently brought charges against James Campbell, a well-known horseman, of Greenville, Augusta county, in which two of Fitzgerald's daughters were involved. Campbell was sued for damages in the circuit court, but Fitzgerald lost the case. He likewise lost a civil action.

About a week ago, it is alleged, Fitzgerald alighted from a train at Greenville, and as he started to go home was invited by a man to ride. They had gone but a short distance when, at a lonely and dark place in the road, a mob surrounded Fitzgerald, took him from the automobile in which he was riding, and stripped him of his clothing. He was kicked and beaten and was told, it is alleged that if he did not sell his property and leave town within three weeks, his house would be burned over his head. He was then smeared with tar and sent home in a thoroughly exhausted condition.

ALLIES' NOTE TO GERMANY

Paris, Dec. 8.—The Allied note to Germany, fixing a time limit within which the Germans must sign the protocol or take the consequences, will not be handed to Baron Von Lersner until today. The German delegation insists that if the note constitutes an ultimatum it will not be accepted, but if it is conciliatory in tone the National Assembly will consider it.

Whatever the outcome may be, the Allied military plans are completed for the quick occupation of Essen, where the great Krupp munition factories are located, the Ruhr Valley and Frankfort.

London, Dec. 8.—Great Britain's war machine is ready for action, War Officials declare, despite the general belief here that Germany will capitulate at the last moment and sign the protocol of the peace treaty.

THEATRES

GRAND THEATRE

The double standard of morals, the cruelty and brutality practiced upon prisoners by Russian officers in the days of the monarchy, are the central notes of "Resurrection," the powerful new Paramount picture, starring Pauline Frederick, which has just been released. The central figure of this great story by Count Leo Tolstoy is Katusha, a beautiful half Gypsy Russian girl, who is betrayed by a Prince. In accordance with the custom of the old regime of Russia, she becomes a woman of the streets and through an accident is finally sentenced to imprisonment in Siberia for a crime of which she is innocent.

The picture is one of unusual intensity, strong dramatic action and exceptionally fine heart appeal. The scenario was written by Chas. E. Whittaker, who also adapted Sardou's "La Tosca," for the screen, in which Miss Frederick recently was seen. "Resurrection" will be shown at the Grand Theatre tonight. There is an unusually strong list of characters portrayed by capable players. Also Chapter 4 "Smashing Barriers."

INGOMAR— "The Arizona Cat Claw"

"The Arizona Cat Claw" at the Ingomar tonight is remarkable story of a western girl's romance.

Its a picture of the far west, of the cattle country with a cow girl as heroine. The picture shows the effect that being raised among the cow boys has on a girl's nature— developing all the sterner traits of her character.

The picture abounds with thrilling situations enacted against a typical Arizona background. Edythe Sterling is one of the most noted equestrians and has won international fame for her skill on horseback.

Also Pearl White in Chapter 3 of "The Black Secret."

RICHMOND THEATRE

"In Wrong," with Jack Pickford, at the Richmond Theatre tonight, is the hard luck tale of hero Johnny Spivens whose only real fault is "That No One Understands Him," —He wants to work hard but there's too darned much water in the swimmin' hole— He loves his girl but there's that pair of ice cream pants on the other fellow's legs—He wants to be honest and kind and good and helping but there's a pair of desperadoes who loot the town in his shoes and there in Johnny finds a whale of a solution to his troubles.
